

RULES INCA MARATHON - WILDMARATHON

Inca marathon is a FULL MARATHON, HALF MARATHON and 10k distance event organized by Geo-Planet Eventos with Makalu Adventure Travel & Tours and takes place in the spectacular setting of the Vilcabamba valley and Machu Picchu.

It will be held on June 14, 2024, with 1300m of positive elevation gain in marathon, 950m in half marathon and 320m approx. in the 10k and it is a variant of the Inca trail less known and more spectacular and safe.

The departure is from the Raccachaca valley and with a goal in the thermal waters of Cocalmayo (Santa Teresa).

The minimum age to participate is 18 years old on the day of the race. Children under 18 must bring an authorization signed by their parents or guardians.

Participants are not required to be in possession of the federative athletics license.

It will be possible to compete individually or by team / company (couples or teams up to a maximum of 5 participants), counting the timing of the first 3 members to enter the finish line.

Participants must bring:

- Bib provided by the organization
- Geolocator (provided by the organization), track downloaded to the mobile or GPS watch and map.

The maximum time to complete the race will be 8 hours. After that time the closing vehicle would pick up the participants.

To qualify for the trophies, participants must go through all controls within the maximum time established. The organization establishes the following CATEGORIES:

GENERAL FULL MARATHON 42K 3 First classified men / women

GENERAL HALF MARATHON 21K 3 First classified men / women

GENERAL 10K 3 First classified men / women

TEAM / COMPANY CATEGORY 1st team

* The teams may be composed of a maximum of 5 people of the same or different sex, the timing will be added and the chrono will be the last team member to enter the finish line.. The last component may not enter more than 30 'from the rest of the team.

The organization makes a signaling marked with arrows and vertical signs, and the tracks are provided to all runners so that they can follow the route. The organization will have support team for participants, as well as opening/closing support and medical service.

A diploma justifying the completion of the test will be delivered to all participants who finish and within the maximum time established.

The organization will have a clothing unloading point in case the weather conditions change It is off the roads and vehicles are not allow during the itinerary but we could find some walker, so caution is requested, you may be responsible for the infractions you may commit. All participants have accident insurance. Likewise, the event has Civil Liability coverage. It is recommended that they have private insurance.

The organization will assist the participants in the event of an accident but is not responsible for accidents in which the participants could be the cause or victim, nor for the expenses, debts or damages that they could incur, for this reason an insurance is contracted.

If necessary for just cause or force majeure, the organization reserves the right to modify the itinerary, controls, schedules, supplies and these regulations.

If the health workers decide to withdraw a participant because they consider it necessary, the participant must abide by that decision for his or her safety. In the same way, the sports director has the power to withdraw a participant for unsportsmanlike conduct or punish him for breach of the regulations, skipping part of the course, etc.

Any claim will be made at the end of the test, in writing and discreetly. Wildmaraton offers experience and the goal is for all participants to enjoy and encourage fair play during the race. Any complaints, if any, should be dealt with directly with the organization and not in public.

Registrations will be made in advance through the official pages: Marathon World, Runedia or Makalu Adventure. Paying 3% of the registration as a deposit and the rest in two payments on the official website Wildmarathon.com

The Hope Path cause allocates a percentage of the registration deposit to aid local development and environmental conservation causes. The organization transfers directly to the organization but is not responsible for the use made of these donations, although it does ensure that they are reliable and that the contributions are directed to local aid causes.

Participants must have an up-to-date passport. It will be convenient to send a copy of the passport to the organization to request authorization to the Natural Parks

Dropouts:

The runners who decide to leave are OBLIGATED TO COMMUNICATE it to the telephones that the organization provides, otherwise, the search and rescue expenses will be passed on to the participant.

If a meteorological event or a catastrophe occurs prior to the trip, the organization will be responsible for the return of the registrations. If this event occurs during the trip or test, the organization reserves the right to change the date, not having to return the registration fee but being able to evaluate the particular case.

Environment:

The Inca Marathon Vilcabamba Machupicchu offers each participant the possibility of visiting part of the Inca Trail, one of the most beautiful places in Peru, but this is also a place with high vulnerability, so the runner must be respectful with the environment, being STRICTLY FORBIDDEN to litter outside the authorized places or causing damage to the natural environment. The organization has containers for the collection of waste in each supply area and we appreciate you using them. Failure to comply with this rule may lead to the disqualification of the participant by the organization. Likewise, it is forbidden to alter the environment. Lack of sports ethics and morals, disobedience to the authorities, the security media or organizers can also be grounds for disqualification.

Image rights:

The participant, by registering, undertakes to assign the image rights to the organization for graphic and audiovisual dissemination for the exclusive use of the event, as well as the personal data required in the registration form that will be used for the communication-promotion of the event

Disclaimer

- The Inca Marathon Vilcabamba Machu Picchu requires good physical condition and adequate training to perform the test. Registration by the runner implies for the organization that it is aware of it and that it is fully empowered to complete it, so it will be responsible for its performance and will assume the risks involved in participating in the race, freeing the organization from responsibilities. derived from accidents or incidents even with third parties, likewise, the organization will not be responsible for any loss of material suffered during the event if it were not for justified cause of the organization.
- The participant assumes that it is his risk and counts to participate in the race. The organization seeks the safest route and means, but is not responsible for any external cause beyond the control of the organization.
- The participant assumes that he has the visa in conditions to travel and that he is authorized to enter the country of destination, not being able to request a refund from the organization, although it may seek some compensation.
- Enrollment in this race implies full acceptance of these regulations.